United States Census

Once every 10 years our U.S. Constitution requires the federal government to conduct a count of our population. The Census Bureau is a non-partisan agency that has a mission to gather and provide data about our nation's people and economy. Data from the census provides the basis for distributing more than $675 billion in federal funds each year. These funds support vital programs that help impact housing, education, transportation, employment, health care, and public policy. The Census also helps determine how many congressional seats we have as a state and how state and local political districts are drawn. Depending upon how responsive we are affects how much funding we receive, so it is in our best interest to strive to have everyone counted. When we respond we help to ensure that our tax dollars come back to our own communities to help support roads, bridges, schools, local businesses, healthcare and emergency services.

You may have already or may soon receive an invitation by mail to respond to the invitation. Every household will have the option of responding online, by mail, or by phone. Areas that are less likely to respond on line will receive a paper questionnaire along with their invitation. If you do not respond, you will receive several reminders until finally someone will come to your door to help you fill out the questionnaire.

Please do your part and support Wisconsin's future. Find out more at wicount.wi.gov
